Juvenile Police Force.
Leonister, Mass., April 30. — The boy police officers of the safety patrol organized in the public schools of this city are polishing up their badges for an active season's work. Chief of Police M. T. Conlon, who acts as their mentor, is holding frequent conferences with the eight or ten older boys of each school who keep active watch over the younger pupils.

Accident prevention is the aim of the patrol. The youthful officers try to keep the little ones from stealing rides on automobiles and other vehicles, warn them against running into the street without looking both ways, and guard the youngsters at railroad grade crossings.

THE MODE AND THE MODART

Now, especially, do the mode and the Modart go well together. For with the straight and simple silhouette of spring comes an even greater need for skillful corseting. And Modart — only Modart — can without sacrifice of comfort, transform those curves of nature to supple lines of fashion.

A trial fitting — and ever after you will choose the Modart.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Lutheran Church of Oneonta Celebrates Twentieth Anniversary of Its Ministry—Hartwick Oneonta Begins.

There was a large attendance Sunday at both morning and evening services at the Lutheran church of the Atonement in this city. The occasion was the first day of the week-long celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the society; and the good attendance was evidence of the interest which was felt alike in church and by citizens generally in the growth and prosperity of one of Oneonta's youngest churches.

The sermon Sunday morning was by Dr. Dietzel of Albany, who speaking of the general theme "Forward" took for text the words: "I press toward the mark of high calling in Christ Jesus." It was an inspiring address in which many predictions were made relative to the local and general church of God. The evening address was by Dr. Lippard, missionary to Japan, whom, speaking from the wealth of long experience, discussed the needs of the work in the Flowery Kingdom, and told of the opportunities which are offered.

Monday evening was the beginning of a two-day's session of the Hartwick conference, which is being held in the church on Grove street. The conference sermon, which had for its theme "Stewardship," drew its inspiration from the words of Paul relative to the Macedonian church: "The first gave their own selves to the Lord." The sermon was a thoughtful address which was fitting prelude to the work of today, in which the same theme will be discussed in several of its numerous phases. The following is the program for the three sessions of today:

- Tuesday Morning.

STALTARI PLEADS GUILTY

Offender Who Insisted That He Be Given Jury Trial Changes His Mind and Pays Fine.

Pasquale Staltari, who was recently arrested together with his companion on the charge of assault in connection with the beating that he and Harold LeRose gave Clayton Loucks a week ago yesterday and who when arraigned before Justice Fred A. Murdock of the town of Oneonta pled not guilty and demanded a jury trial, voluntarily appeared before Justice Murdock on Saturday last and changed his plea of not guilty to guilty and asked for the leniency of the court. It will be recalled that LeRose admitted his guilt when taken before Justice Murdock on Wednesday last and was given a $50 fine and 30 days in the county jail.

Attorney Paul Smith appeared for Staltari and advised him to plead guilty after a jury had been summoned and the case set down for trial on May 2.

Justice Murdock, after listening to Staltari and Attorney Smith, fined the accused $50 and sentenced him to six months in the county jail, but owing to the conditions surrounding the family of Staltari and that his absence from home might work a severe hardship upon the members, suspended the jail sentence during good behavior. The fine was paid.

Fight Mosquitoes at Home.

The best way to get rid of mosquitoes is to destroy their eggs and breeding places. Ponds, pools and swamps where they breed should be filled or drained. Old tin cans, pails, or other useless receptacles that may hold water should be turned over. If rain barrels and tanks are covered with galvanized wire netting at least fourteen meshes in the inch, the mosquitoes would be prevented from laying their eggs on the water.

Ponds and pools that cannot be drained should be sprinkled with kerosene oil every two weeks during the summer. The oil spreads over the water in a thin film and prevents the hatching of the eggs, and they are drowned. The oil also kills the eggs.

Fish put in lakes that cannot be drained or covered with oil will destroy the wigglers. Goldfish, sunfish and certain minnows are good for this, the state college at Ithaca states.

I wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kind assistance and Rogers post; also the nurses at the Fox Memorial Hospital for their care.

SLATED FOR BAFFIN LAND.

Donald B. MacMillan Counts Ten as Essential for Arctic Explorations.

Once more Donald B. MacMillan has the limelight of publicity for he is about to start again on a tour of discovery of Baffin land, and the Arctic circle.

His plan is to leave from a Maine port about the 15th of June in his staunch schooner, "Bowdoin," going as far north in his explorations as Etah, in Greenland.

Capt. MacMillan explained to the writer that he would take with him on the boat only seven men, and he intends to go within 724 miles of the North Pole. Incidentally, he will have in his cargo, as last year, a good supply of Salada tea, which the Salada company has donated. Tea, the Eskimos consider a prime essential, and the most valuable contribution in their long marches over the frozen Greenland Cap, and the long stretches of drifted ice in the Polar sea.

"For the cold and hard work, and physical endurance with the doctrinal, there is no drink so valuable as tea," said Captain MacMillan. "The men demand it, and must have it—it somehow has the faculty of warming their vitals and driving out the deathlike, lethargic frozen feeling that is indescribable."

Shapely—Not Stretched into Shape.

It's a small thing—the cut of the neck. Yet it marks the difference between the unsightly pushing up in front of ordinary underwear and the dainty trimness of Athena. And that is but one of the distinctive features that give Athena its delightful ease and comfort. The extra width through bust and hips, the fitted seat, the trim narrow back—all contribute to the supreme shapeliness of the whole garment. No need to stretch Athena into shape; it is tailored, in the making, to the natural lines of the figure. Yet it costs no more!

Child Training at Home

THE VALUE OF AN EDUCATION

By EDWARD N. CLOPPER, PH. D.,
Assistant Secretary, National Child Labor Committee.

SOME time ago, the United States bureau of education at Washington printed a statement which showed the amount of money that had been earned by different groups of young people up to the time they were twenty-five years of age. Those who had remained in school until they were eighteen had earned nearly 50 percent more than those who had left school at fourteen and had been working four years longer.

Such a statement of facts will convince intelligent parents that they should keep their children in school and not yield to the temptation of permitting them to go to work because the family's expenses are high and children are paid better wages than formerly.

Men and women are always grateful for the sacrifices which their parents made in order to give them education. They know that in the struggle to make a living, the educated man or woman has a great advantage over the ignorant and can reach higher places and receive better pay. Today the competition among those who work, whether they work with hand or brain, or both, was never so keen, and the ones who are best equipped are the winners. An education is one of the chief items in the necessary equipment.

All States Have School Laws.

Your state law tells you that you must send your child to school until he is of a certain age and then he may leave and go to work—if you let him. And he may want to do so and beg you to let him take that job in the factory where his friend Joe works. But you are older and know better than he does what is for his best interest. You know that if you let him leave school as soon as the law allows, you are giving him no better chance in this world than all children get—the law requires them all to go.

CONSPICUOUS AND DECIDED EFFECT OF KINDERGARTENS

Dr. Carroll D. Wright, formerly commissioner of labor for the United States, emphasizes the importance of the kindergarten in the following significant statement:

"The conspicuous and decided effect of kindergartens in preventing the inception of criminal tendencies in children exposed by their homes, or neglect, to such tendencies, proves most conclusively that the kindergarten effects an immense pecuniary saving to the community, not only in diminishing expenditures otherwise necessary for police and protective measures, but in rendering what would otherwise be a criminal population, a part of a useful, law-abiding, self-supporting membership of the state."

This country is spending $7,500,000 a day on its criminal classes.

to school that long—and if you yield to his urging now you will have to bear his disappointment later when he finds out that it was a great mistake.

The education which the public school now gives is better adapted to the needs of children than the courses which were taught a generation ago. Today the child learns how to make himself useful and how to do this in an intelligent way.

Every child should begin his education in the kindergarten, for in it the seeds of good citizenship are sown. It is in the kindergarten that honesty, loyalty and consideration for the rights of others are instilled during the child's most impressionable years. Patriotic songs and stories of our great heroes implant deep love of country; marching and games develop self-control, team work and adaptability; hand work and modeling promote efficiency and appreciation of labor. Surely the foundations of the skilled artisan and the loyal citizen of the future can be laid in no better place than in a well-equipped kindergarten.

People Pay for Kindergartens.
After starting in the right way, the longer the child stays in school, the more useful he will become and the better able to take upon himself the responsibilities of life. The school of today aims to make intelligent, efficient citizens, but it will not succeed if the child is taken out and put to work at the earliest possible moment. The people pay for the kindergarten, elementary grammar and high schools so that their children may have the benefit of them. You are one of the people and you help to support these schools. There are your schools, built and kept up for the sake of your child, as well as for all other children like him, then. Keep your child in school. Let him begin in the kindergarten and graduate from the high school.

Trailer for Automobiles.

A trailer of road design has been patented in the United States by Henry Kapfer of Billancourt, France. The trailer consists of a chassis, the forwardly extended sides of which are attached to the rear of an automobile. At the rear of the chassis is a single wheel which supports the trailer. The wheel is mounted in a position so that it is always free. A spring mechanism is also included which takes up the shock of the rear wheel without communicating them to the chassis.

Faithful Dog Gives His Life for Baby

Van Nuys, Calif.—A dog owned by V. A. Station lost its life while searching a burning barn for its master's baby, safe in the house at the time. The dog had been taught to search for the child when asked "Where is baby?" Some one asked that question while the flames were destroying the barn and the dog dashed into the burning building.

THE GIRL ON THE JOB

How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good

By JESSIE ROBERTS

TRAINING SALESWOMEN

IT WAS a thriving little store in a small village in New England. Had some clients to get, and she was a real help in finding something, though the stock was necessarily limited. But she had taste, and a sense of color, and she was interested.

I found that she had graduated that year from high school, and gone into the store to earn money during the summer, and that she meant to go to the city and try for the position of saleswoman in one of the large department stores. She asked me what I thought of her chances.

I advised her to go to the highest-class store of the kind she wished to work for.

"Give a lot of notice with your appearance. Remember that you are not only applying for the job that is now open to you, when you are ignorant and untrained, but for the job in the future when you have got your training and when you know your possibilities."

There are splendid opportunities for saleswomen nowadays. It is one of the big trade classes now open to women. But it is a difficult one, with much competition and an almost endless amount of training. It requires hard work and natural aptitude. I think the girl I met that day is going to succeed. She had the right idea and the love for it, too. But don't think, when you hear of the big salaries and wonderful opportunities in that profession, that you can get those without deserving them.

The Linn Tractor

The efficiency of the road building Tractor can no longer be measured by its performance on the dirt roads. It must be built to meet the requirements of clearing the roads of snow in the winter. The time is right at hand when all the main lines of travel and many of the side roads must be kept open for winter traffic.

Highway superintendents should give, before purchasing a tractor for their township work, serious consideration of snow removal as well as general road construction. From the fact that the Linn Tractor is an all-year around machine, its operation should be thoroughly investigated before the closing of contracts for a power to be used in road construction.

The above cut shows a section of road which was opened during the past winter and maintained in condition for motor traffic during the entire winter, it being a section of a fifty-six mile stretch which was cleared with a Linn tractor and kept open every day at an approximate cost of $10.00 per mile.

This should be conclusive evidence that our main highways can and will be opened for motor traffic during the winter months providing the townships have a Linn tractor equipped with a snow plow of proper design for this work.

Picture Story of Fire Horror

This is the top of the tenement fire trap in East 109th street, New York City, in which 12 people died. Above is the last person rescued from the blazing inferno, Edward Bronstein, being comforted by his sweetheart, Evelyn Rose. At the right is Maudie Friedman who rescued a number of tenants, Bronstein among them.

A STORY OR TWO

A sailor is always tremendously impressed by the obligations of his oath when on the witness stand, says Judge, and frequently he becomes so conscientious that he refuses to be sworn of anything whatever. On one occasion a court of inquiry was investigating a collision which had occurred in a fog. An old boatswain's mate was testifying and he had been carefully instructed that he must tell that he saw the light and that it was a red light. When the witness was asked the usual routine questions were asked: "What is your name, rating and present station?" And the reply was, "Yan Yarnon. Yes, sir, I seen the light and it was red!"

A certain captain of an Atlantic vessel and his chief engineer, tired of endlessly debating which the ship could more easily dispense with, decided to swap places for a day. The chief ascended to the bridge and the skipper dived into the engine room. After a couple of hours at most the captain suddenly appeared on deck covered with oil and soot, bruised as to one eye and generally the worse for wear. "Chief?" he called, wildly beckoning with a monkey wrench. "You'd have to come down here at once. I can't make her go." "Of course you can't," said the chief calmly removing his pipe from his mouth. "She's ashore!"

One New Yorker Shuns Movies
New York, April 30. — A New Yorker has been found who, although spending his whole life in the city, has never attended a movie, has been to the theatre only once in 27 years and has not seen a ball game in 40.

He is Charles J. Foy, an employee of the elevated railroad system for 45 years. "I have a small garden," says Foy, "but I like best a good book or pipe. If I could have only one of them, I should be perfectly happy with my pipe."

TILLAPPAUGH PRESIDENT

Schenectady Man Re-elected by Tillapough Undertakers' Association. W. C. Rothery Secretary-Treasurer.

At the annual meeting of the Tillapough Undertakers' association held at the Elks' home last evening, R. V. Tillapough of Schenectady was re-elected president. William Stilwell of Harpersfield, vice-president, and W. C. Rothery of this city, secretary and treasurer. Fred Lyon of Walton, Benjamin J. Farabee of Schoharie and Ernest Taylor of Unadilla were elected trustees for three years.

The meeting which opened with a very good dinner was also concerned with the formation of plans for the state convention of undertakers which will be held at Richfield Springs the latter part of June. About thirty-five members and their wives from Oswego, Delaware and Schoharie counties were present and a most profitable time was spent by those in attendance.

Rev. Clarence E. Brown, pastor of the Baptist church of Cooperstown opened the meeting with a prayer and later in the evening gave a most enjoyable talk on "The Soul of Business." An after dinner talk was given by Dr. George J. Dann, superintendent of the city schools, and his remarks were very well received.

It was decided that the next meeting of the association will be held at Unadilla in July. The Imperial orchestra of this city furnished music for the gathering.

IS SMOKING HARMFUL?

British Physician Declares Smoker from Nicotine Poisoning Negligible. (By the Associated Press.)

London, April 30.—The danger to smokers from nicotine poisoning is declared by Dr. E. P. Rogers to be "so small as to be almost negligible." This should be of comfort to smokers, and by many smokers in America, where, according to dispatches received here something like a crusade is underway against "My Lady Nicotine." She is there denounced as a "disgraced and who is responsible for much that is injurious to health."

Dr. Rogers' opinion is based on experiments conducted by himself to determine the action of nicotine on the human system. He has also conducted, in accordance with them, the conditions he has reached.

He next took ten grains of tobacco steeped in alcohol and water in order to extract all the nicotine. He said the solution was strong enough to kill a dog weighing four stone.

He then took a similar quantity of the same tobacco and burned it in a paper on constructed as to retain the whole of the smoke produced. The liquid resulting was found to have no worse effect on a dog than to trouble his digestion. The dog was of the same weight as the dog on which nicotine had been used with fatal effect.

Dr. Rogers says he found that concentration depresses the motion, or rather transforms it into "creeps, shivers, and other such things which if they are rather irritating are nevertheless excepted antiseptics. The phlegm or cigarette-holder, he says, should be kept clean, but with that danger guarded against there is no other "in these conditions," he states in conclusion, "tobacco may be even good for the health."

Someone knows what is going to happen, of course, but unless you happen to be on the inside the mystery will be deep and black until Wednesday night. Take it from the committee, brother, this is going to be GOOD.
